

Name: _____ Class: _____

Utricularia inflata is an aquatic carnivorous plant. Only the flowers stand out of the water. The underwater carnivorous traps suck up microscopic prey in a fraction of a second.

What's in a name?

Latin: Uter = "a container, sometimes used as a float"

International Carnivorous Plant Society